Committee Hears Foreign Language Proposal for Grades 7&8

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - The first order of business at the May 16 School Committee meeting called for the reorganization of the committee. Chet Hanratty was unanimously re-appointed as chairman. Ed Wilczynski and Bruce Pease were both nominated for Vice Chairman/ Secretary. Pease received three votes to Wilczynski's two.

Unit Award

Ross Pease, student advisory representative to the School Committee, reported briefly on student activities at the High School. He noted that while the Honors History Class did not rank among the top ten teams in a recent competition on the U.S. Constitution held in Washington D.C., they did receive a unit award.

High School Principal Daniel Carmody commended the students and the coaching efforts of History teacher Roger Desrosiers. Superintendent Alfred Sylvia said he was proud of the students' achievement in going to the state and national finals in the competition.

Foreign Languages

Sylvia reported that the administration and the school committee have discussed introducing Spanish and French to grade 7. Sylvia said French has been offered to a top group of students at that level for a number of years. "This program would open it to all students," he said, "a half year of each, Spanish and French. It would involve mostly conversational and cultural experiences in grade 7 on a three times a week basis." In grade 8, students would elect a full year of either Spanish or French, and in grade 9 would begin French I or Spanish I at the high school level.

Curriculum Coordinator David Troughton explained that the program will focus on culture and basics, not on language structure.

Carmody said the program presently in place will be phased out at the end of next year if the proposal is approved by the school committee.

Committeewoman Jane Pojani said she was concerned that students will not be able to work into French II in the 9th grade, thus reducing their options for other subjects in their junior year.

Desrosiers said to Pojani, "I like what you're saying; I hate to lose that myself (the opportunity to take French or Spanish II in Grade 9. Under the proposal, students would have to wait until they reach Grade 10 to take a level II language). I think that what has happened over the years, there has been a problem with scheduling," he said.

Sylvia argued that the proposal would allow all students to be involved in a language, where now there are only 25 to 30 students. "We are talking about 90 students in Grade 7 if the committee approves and 50 again in the following year." Sylvia said he sees it as contributing to a stronger foreign language program in grade 9.

Pease asked why French I or Spanish I will not be offered in the 8th grade so that students could go on to level II in the 9th grade. "The group on the old system is gradually phasing out," he said. "Wouldn't the scheduling problem phase out in two or three years anyway?"

Carmody replied, "French in grades 7 and 8 for two years, five times per week (which is the program currently in place) wouldn't be equivalent to French three times per week (which is being proposed) which would not be sufficient to give proper ground work."

Desrosiers agreed, noting that conversation is stressed in the new proposal.

Pease then asked why they could not schedule the language for five days a week in grade 8.

Desrosiers replied that there would be a problem in scheduling.

"I thought that grades 7 and 8 weren't going to be on a high school schedule," Pease remarked. "We thought they were going to be on their own team schedule?"

Carmody replied. "They are."

"Then what's the problem," Pease asked.

Carmody replied that he has to use high school staff when students have to be plugged into the high school schedule. He said he hasn't been able to complete the high school scheduling because this issue hasn't been resolved. "It does impact on the high school schedule because they, teachers who are to be involved, have to be free at that time so classes can be scheduled around that," he said.

Sylvia said the program being offered is not being offered as an in-depth program. "It really is watering it down," he said. "It is not five times per week. This program is only three times per week and does not push grammar."

Pojani asked if the students in Grade 8 would still be taking reading. Sylvia replied that they would be taking reading five times a week.

"What happens now," Pojani said, ' the Grade 8 teachers in reading recommend students for language in grade 9."

Carmody said students elect to take a language in Grade 9.

"But they don't necessarily get into a language unless they receive a recommendation from a reading teacher," Pojani argued.

BOSTON - When Navy recruiter Michael Zawieruszynski came to call at the Millbury home of Tracey Swenson, a senior at Blackstone Valley Vocational Technical High School, it was supposed to be just a standard recruiting interview. But a few things happened that weren't on the agenda.

Tracey, 18, did sign up for the Navy's delayed entry program. However, during the interview, Swenson's sister Marjorie, 19, came into the room with her boyfriend, Kevin Monroe, 20, of Sterling. They stayed, listened, asked a few questions, and not only supported Tracey's decision but joined the Navy themselves.

Tracey and Marjorie are the son and daughter of Lowell and Marjorie Swenson of Millbury. Mr. Swenson, a Navy veteran, strongly supports their decision to enlist.

The delayed entry program under which Tracey enlisted allows high school seniors to enlist while still in school and complete their high school education before leaving for recruit training at Great Lakes, Illinois. Once he finishes recruit training, Tracey will be placed in the Navy's apprenticeship training program. "What I'm really happy about is the fact that I won't be facing the confusion so many people face when they graduate from high school," Tracey said. "I know where I'm going and what I'm going to do. That's a good feeling."

Marjorie Swenson graduated from Blackstone with a background in electronics and worked for the Digital Corporation for a time. Upon completion of her recruit training at Orlando, Florida, she will report to the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes for training in basic electricity and electronics, following by training in the electronics technician rating.

Kevin Monroe, a graduate of Worcester Vocational Technical High School, enlisted for training in special warfare.

Tongue-in-Cheek Letter to Keverian

To the Editor:
This is an open letter to George Keverian.
Dear Mr. Speaker:

On Sunday, May 6th, you apologized to the Hampden County Democrats in West Springfield for the state's financial difficulties, stating that, "State Government has let you down." You then went on to say, "I share in your frustration with those who seem paralyzed by headlines and choose to follow the seemingly safe course."

Mr. Speaker, generalities for the most part tend to tar all with the same brush, and as a constituent of the 7th Worcester District which includes Millbury, Auburn and Oxford, may I point out that our Representative does not fall into that category you so lament. Indeed, our Representative has voted for every tax increase that has come down the Pike, so to speak. He has never wavered in his loyalty to the leadership or the Governor. Why just last week he was one of only four Central Massachusetts legislators to vote against earmarking a fifty million dollar supplement to the budget, thus demonstrating his complete faith that the Governor would spend it wisely. For years he has marched in locked step with the Party, the leadership and the Governor, to the point of sacrificing the best interest of the middle class working people who make up his district.

For you to lump him with those "Demagogues," as you put it, who vote against more taxes and would favor reform, restructuring and more accountability in State programs is most unfair. It is to be hoped that, in future campaign speeches, especially here in Central Massachusetts, you will properly credit those legislators such as ours, whose unswerving loyalty and complete obedience have served you so well as Speaker. He deserves no less.

Editorial Hit the Mark

To the Editor:

Thank you so very much for the excellent editorial regarding Police Chief Ronald Stokowski and the 4th of July fireworks. My sentiments exactly.

As I live downtown, I was a victim of all those complaints aired in your editorial.

My only hope is that many people read your editorial and support our Chief of Police. Thanks again, good work.

Another Point of View

IT AIN'T OVER 'TIL IT'S OVER

By Lawrence Moore

The power plant issue has generated a renewed interest in the Town of Sutton among its residents. At the meeting of Selectmen on May 15th, an astounding number of well qualified people indicated their willingness to serve on town boards. The turnout at the Town Meeting caused many to realize they can be a factor in the governing of their Town. The power plant is an important issue! It is an issue that will have long range and far reaching effects on this town. The power plant issue, however, is only one of the major problems of planning and development that Sutton faces in the next decade. If it takes an emotional crisis to generate interest among us, so be it. In the meanwhile, we must continue to ask questions and to insist on answers.

First ...My question in last week's column about the future of the Task Force was answered at the Selectmen's meeting of May 15. Chairman Carl Licopoli asked for direction from the Selectmen and was told to continue. He then very graciously brought up the fact that he was the representative Selectman on the committee and requested a clarification of his position. The Board of Selectmen for some unknown reason did not take up the challenge, did not say that because of his good work he could remain as a member of the committee, did not accept his willingness to be replaced as the Selectmen's representative, and in other words ... did nothing! This, in my opinion, was a mistake in view of the number of people who attended the meeting. It is important that a representative of the Selectmen be on the Task Force. The Board of Selectman has to be able to bite the bullet on what might be a distasteful opinion if its deliberations are to be regarded as decisive.

Second ...One volunteer commented that "the majority" of the town had voted in favor of a power plant. That is not true! A majority of the town voted against the power plant but was not able to muster the two thirds required to change a zoning by-law.

Third ...I was disappointed by the Selectmen's reaction to a proposed increase in the landfill fee from $5 to $15. This issue had been studied by the User Fee Committee, which included two members of the Board of Selectmen, Mary Kay Connor and Mike Chizy. Every member of that Committee had an opportunity to participate in the report, and had an opportunity to correct the report before it was issued. Good and valid reasons for the increase were developed, some presented by member Nick Moran at the Selectmen's meeting. Why then were Rick LaBonte and Mike Chizy the only two members to stand up for the recommendation of the User Fee Committee? If the recommendations of Committees which do serious, in-depth studies are to be put aside as a result of a few minutes discussion at a Selectmen's Meeting, it will be difficult in the future to assemble committees to study special subjects and the esteem of the Selectmen will be lowered. The Selectmen had the User Fee Report long before it was published, and could have consulted with the Committee if they disagreed.

Fourth ...The town has been functioning for years under rules and regulations that have not always been completely or strictly enforced. We must not be lulled into complacency by "State and Federal Rules and Regulations will play a big part in the power plant process." Aside from our own problems of lack of enforcement, State and Federal dereliction of duty, in regard especially to the environment, are well known.

Fifth ...Response to some of the Task Force questions, as I understand it, is "this is a new technique and there are no definitive answers yet." This leads to questions. Why should a prime residential location in Sutton be selected for an experimental plant? Is this location best for Sutton or best for the power plant? If the process is so new, why cannot a prototype be built in a less critical location? Considering the problems of fuel and water supply, how much more difficult would it be to build the plant in a more isolated area and pipe in fuel and water, and then add one more power line to the proliferation we now have in town.

Sixth ...Selectmen Rick LaBonte brought up the $50,000 review fee which Makowski has promised. That

Millbury Selectmen's Meeting Digest

National Guard Says Town Must Pay for MP's

By Edward J. Cooney

MILLBURY - Chairman Jude Cristo called the May 15 Selectmen's meeting to order at 7:00 with all board members present.

Center School

Administrative Assistant Earl Chase reported that he and Norm Gonyea, who is responsible for maintenance on the town buildings, checked out a complaint from the Youth Commission that some windows at the Youth Center will not open and some have missing glass. Chase said only one window was sealed shut and it was obvious it had been that way for some time. He also said that one glass was missing and was knocked out by the kids.

Lakeview Avenue

Board members discussed an encroachment problem on Lakeview Avenue. "There is a mound there were grass is growing, and it does restrict the street," Chase said.

Cristo remarked that the issue pertains to two people who are related to him and said he would have to step down from the board. Vice Chairman Donald Gauthier chaired the meeting for the discussion.

Gauthier said he and Highway Surveyor Joe Chase found that there is a problem since the road narrows as it gets down to the end. "Check with Joe," Gauthier said, "he thinks that part of that street the town owns, and the property owner is probably encroaching on that street at town property."

Gauthier said there were also three trees planted by the tree warden three feet off the road. He said those trees would probably have to be removed in order to widen the road. "It needs to be surveyed to establish the town's boundaries," Gauthier said.

Chase said he would seek an estimate for a survey and get back to the board.

Fireworks

Chase referred to a letter confirming discussions that took place at a May 14 meeting between the board, Police Chief Ron Stokowski, and representatives of the Lions Club. The meeting concerned the allocation of police personnel and the National Guard for crowd and traffic control on the evenings that fireworks will be held as part of the 4th of July celebration put on by the Lions Club.

Chase asked board members to review the letter to see if there was anything that should be added. He also said that Lions Club President Bill Kane told him that the club would be requesting a permit for two nights of fireworks from the Fire Chief, June 30th and July 3rd.

Cristo asked Chase if he had reached Captain Pachecco of the National Guard to see if a request for 12 guardsmen to assist on the night of the 3rd was approved. Chase said he spoke with Pachecco and the request is being processed. Chase also said that Pachecco told him someone from the guard would be in touch with the chief of police tomorrow. (A check with the chief on Friday revealed that he had still not received a call from the Guard.)

[The Chronicle called the National Guard in Reading on May 17. Captain Tammy Miracle in the Public Affairs Office confirmed that approval has been granted for 12 guardsmen to assist with traffic and crowd control on July 3rd. Since the Lions Club made the initial request to the Guard, we asked Miracle if it was normal procedure for a private organization to make such a request. "That's odd," she replied. "It's usually the police force that says they need help."

We also asked Miracle to confirm a statement by Lions Club member Fred Vulter who said that the state will be picking up the tab for the Guardsmen. "When they're put on state active duty," Miracle said, "the town of Millbury will be paying for it. They will have to pick up the tab." She said the town would be billed by the State House for the cost.

When asked for an estimate on the cost of the 12 guardsmen, Miracle replied, "It depends on the person's rank and how many years he's had in. They just requested 12 MP's so we don't know who we'll have on that day."

The Chronicle asked Earl Chase how the town would pay for the guardsmen. He replied that monies would come from an article approved at the May 1st town meeting. That article approved $5,000 "for the July 4th celebration, subject to a resolution of the safety concerns of the police and fire departments." Any costs for police or military personnel over the $5,000 will have to be paid by the Lions Club.]

Grafton Road Auto

Chase reported that Grafton Road Auto has not renewed its Class II License. Cristo noted that the renewal date was December 31.

The board approved a motion to send a cease and desist letter to the business with the added requirement that a public hearing would have to be held for a renewal.

Traffic Sign

A brief discussion was held on the location of a "No Turn On Red" sign at South Main Street. The board did not approve a recommendation from the Safety Officer at a previous meeting to install "No Turn On Red" signs at all four stops at the intersection.

Bleau recommended that the sign presently located on South Main Street be relocated across the street at OTB News, facing South Main Street. He maintained that the sign's present location on South Main Street on a post with a right lane/right turn sign was not adequate.

Gauthier said he would rather see a four way "no right turn on red" as well as a red and yellow pedestrian light so drivers would be more aware of pedestrians. Board members expressed some concern with traffic build up if all four ways were changed to no turn on red.

Stokowski said there was no money in the sign account for the highway department to put another sign at OTB. He also noted that a sign cannot be placed on a becomes more important now if some of the highly theoretical questions about the power plant are to be satisfactorily answered.

In the last 20 years the power generation business has changed. Utilities are no longer interested in building major power plants because the problems of pollution, return on investment, and new regulations seem to have dissipated their desire to construct, themselves, the generating facilities which all of us know will be needed in the future. An industry has been built up which erects small and medium sized plants, waste to energy facilities, co-generation plants, and hydro and solar units. The Department of Public Utilities will look with favor on plants such as that proposed in Sutton. It will be up to us to make sure, through our own processes, that we get all the right answers.

Sutton is headed in the right direction. Five interested citizens appeared at the Task Force meeting on Wednesday the 16th. Dozens volunteered to serve on town boards and committees. The power plant will either be built or it will not. Our job is to make sure the decision, when made, is the will of the town, is in the best interest of the town, and is soundly based on the best information possible from unbiased sources that have no personal financial gain at stake.

In regard to the power plant and every other important development in town, It Ain't Over 'til It's Over.

On The Sheif

By Rosemary Waltos

Have you just been laid off? Are you looking for a better job than the one you have now? Are you a new college graduate about to hit the pavement with degree in hand? If any of these three descriptions fits, then why don't you strategize and launch your job search by using the Millbury Public Library's collection for job-hunters and career-changers?

Even before you open the Sunday classified section, it helps to take a minute and look through the books in the nonfiction and reference collections at the library. You can start in the 650 section of the library's nonfiction collection. Here you'll find practical job hunting guides like WHAT COLOR IS MY PARACHUTE? by Richard Nelson Bolles. This guide has been published and updated each year for the past 20 years and is one of our most sought after manuals. There is also Kathryn Petras' THE ONLY JOB HUNTING GUIDE YOU'LL EVER NEED. Both books are general but solid, step-by-step manuals on finding the job for both job hunters and career switchers.

Also included in this portion of the collection are helpful books targeting specific fields. For example, the aspiring business executive should check out BEAT THE MBA'S TO THE TOP. ALTERNATIVE CAREERS FOR TEACHERS is a job changing handbook for educators.

People researching fields can browse our reference collection to find the U.S. Department of Labor's OCCUPATIONAL HANDBOOK, a yearly publication, or the three volume ENCYCLOPEDIA OF CAREERS AND VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE. Both books provide career guidance by analyzing individual occupations and careers in terms of the nature of the work, working conditions, employment opportunities, educational and training qualifications, advancement, earnings and future outlook.

When looking for a job, the place that many people start is in area newspapers. With the current state of the Massachusetts economy, we have noticed an increase in the use of the want ads in the library's Sunday BOSTON GLOBE, BOSTON HERALD and NEW YORK TIMES newspapers. Books like THE BOSTON JOB BANK and HOW TO GET A JOB IN BOSTON supplement Boston newspapers' "help wanted" sections.

Many people already know what they want to do and where they want to apply. What these people need is help in polishing the image they create for themselves on paper. To do so, they come into the library looking for resume books. These are also in the 650's section. Some of the books you can choose from are: THE RESUME CATALOG: 200 DAMN GOOD EXAMPLES, RESUME HANDBOOK: HOW TO WRITE OUTSTANDING RESUMES AND COVER LETTERS FOR EVERY SITUATION, HIGH IMPACT RESUMES AND LETTERS, LIBERAL ARTS POWER: HOW TO SELL IT ON YOUR RESUME, RESUMES THAT WORK: HOW TO SELL YOURSELF ON PAPER. Books like HARDBALL JOB TACTICS help individuals with tricky backgrounds to sell.

If you're faced with writing a resume and cover letters, feel free to come in and use the library's electronic typewriter or personal computer to do the job.

If your career change or advancement means higher education or civil service and other types of exams, we can help you in several ways. First, for those that have to go back to school, come in to consult our college catalog collection. We collect catalogs from over 100 of New England's four and two year colleges. We also have comprehensive college guides like the familiar COLLEGE BLUE BOOK and PETERSON'S COLLEGE GUIDE series that provide descriptions of colleges and college programs. You'll find these in our reference section.

Nothing can be more intimidating in midlife than the thought of taking a test to qualify for a job. To help you, we have an assortment of exam books from civil service to CLEP exam primers. Recently, Emergency Medical Technician Linda Gosselin donated several emergency medical services manuals for students and test takers.

Some people say that finding a job is one of the most stressful experiences for an individual. Whatever your stress level or however you approach the task, don't hesitate to ask for our help in finding the materials you need for a successful job search.

FATHER'S DAY PRESENT WORKSHOP, June 13, 3:30. Children kindergarten age and older are invited to the library to learn how to make a designer T-shirt present for their fathers on Father's Day. To participate, just bring in a polyester/cotton blend T-shirt, white or a light color, in your father's size. Registration starts on June 5.

LIBRARY HOURS: Tuesday-Thursday, 10-8; Friday, 10-6; Saturday, 10-1. Telephone 865-1181.

Sutton Minor League Action

SUTTON - In Minor League Action on Tuesday evening, May 15, the Orange team defeated the Purple team by a score of 19-13. traffic signal. Stokowski said the best possible place for the sign is at the post on South Main Street.

Lachance suggested that the Safety Officer be brought in to explain his position.

Before Stokowski left the meeting, board member Bernie Plante told him that Cristo made it clear to the Lions Club at a meeting held on the evening of May 14 how cooperative Stokowski was concerning the July 4th celebration. Both Plante and Cristo are members of the Lions Club.

Cristo added, "I think we had a good meeting yesterday afternoon and everything seemed to work out. Everyone gave a little. Unfortunately for the chief, he had to give a little too much on one particular evening."

"The chief didn't give," Stokowski replied. "The board gave, I didn't."

Interchanges

Town Planner Dave Hulseberg was present to review two proposed alternatives for the Mass Pike and Rte. 20 interchanges and connectors. He said there were also three possible alternatives being considered for the intersection of Rte. 122A and Rte. 146.

Hulseberg called for the town to develop a strong dialogue with the state by becoming pro-active. He said HNTB, consultant on the project for the state, wants to come to the town to start discussing some of the alternatives.

According to Hulseberg, the state does not want to allow curb cuts along the section of Rte. 146 in Millbury. He said it would have a big impact on two large parcels of land that could be developed in the future for commercial or industrial use.

"Basically," Hulseberg said, "the people who live on Rte. 146 in residential homes in that area (northbound from 122A to the Millbury Town Line) may not want to live along Rte. 146. It's going to be too congested."

Peter Boria asked if the state would buy the homeowners out. Both Cristo and Hulseberg said no. Boria then asked, "Do those people know that?" Cristo said they do not.

Hulseberg said that even developers may not want to come in if they will have a hard time getting curb cuts. He also said that one of the statements made as a big sell for Millbury is that the town will realize some economic development out of the connection. "If that is true," he said, "it appears we are not going to get something out of this unless we start talking with the state right now. We have to ask them how are we going to get curb cuts out of all this. What you are seeing," Hulseberg explained, "is a new route 146 which, after you go under the Rte. 20 bridge, veers off west along into Worcester."

He also said the proposals call for a cul-de-sac to be placed near ten residences, which would require services to Millbury being directed down Ballard Street and up Cliff Street over to Park Hill Avenue.

Cristo, who owns property on Rte. 146, said, "The thing that irritates me is that the Commonwealth goes out of its way to take care of Worcester by putting in a whole new road through Worcester, and residents in Millbury will have to put up with a lot of aggravation. Why can't the state put in a parallel access road along 146 so people could get out some way and get to the highway."

Hulseberg replied, "What's important is that we did start talking with the state and their consultants today to say there are two pieces of valuable property for economic development along the 146 corridor from Rte. 122A to the Rte. 20 area. Right now these homes ring those properties. I hate to be speaking for people who are not here," he said, "but because of the level of traffic that's going to occur here, they may not want to have single family homes here."

Cristo asked what the benefits would be for a developer. "The only thing we can do," Hulseberg replied, "is to do a PUD - a Planned Unit Development scenario, where you give a developer incentives to come into this area with such as higher density permits, things like that so they can come into the area, purchase the homes, and do something."

"Where does that leave these people," Cristo asked. "It leaves them up a creek." He said the state should take all those properties since they will be making their conditions adverse. "They have lived there for years and years. There is no way those people will be able to get out into the road with the traffic increasing."

Zoning Board of Appeals Chairman Richard Valentino asked if the state had decided which plan they would go with. Hulseberg said they are still not clear on whether they will go with Option 1 or 2.

Hulseberg closed the discussion, saying, "I guess what the message is that I am trying to send to this board is that the town should have some real strong dialogues with the state and get pro-active rather than sit back and see what plan comes about. We should attempt to know what effect each plan will have on the town and the potential for economic development.

Resignation

Richard Valentino told the board that an appointment to the Zoning Board of Appeals will be necessary as member Holly Oliveri has submitted her resignation. The board accepted her resignation with regret.

Valentino suggested that Cheryl Hennigan, at present an alternate on the ZBA, be approved to replace Oliveri. The board took the recommendation under advisement.

Dorothy Pond

Chase said there was one bid for de-weeding part of Dorothy Pond at a price of $172 per acre. Fifty-eight acres will be done rather than the usual 89 because of insufficient funds.

Pedestrian Light

Cristo suggested that the safety officer be consulted on the timing of the pedestrian light at Elm and Main Street. The Safety Officer had recommended at a previous meeting that the timing on the "Walk" light be increased.

"I think it's all right now," Bleau said.

Fuel Tanks

Chase said the Highway department does not intend to test the fuel tanks but will replace three tanks with two tanks at a capacity of 10,000 gallons. He said $65,000 is available from the town meeting article for that purpose.

Gauthier remarked that the federal government has made changes in the law again and again. He suggested that the town look into the possibility of bidding fuel out to promote business.

Bleau said a cost analysis should be done to see how long it would take the town to recover $65,000 versus buying from a vendor. Chase said it could take 5 years to recover the cost.

Asa Waters Mansion

Cristo referred to a concern presented in a letter last week from the Council on Aging concerning a problem with a walk filled in with small stones at the rear entrance to the Asa Waters Mansion.

Chase said he sent a copy of the letter to the Historical Commission. The COA recommended putting down asphalt for safety reasons. Cristo noted that brick would be more in keeping with the historical aspects of the mansion.

Gauthier moved to have the area paved with asphalt.

Lachance noted that the house is on the National Historic Register and said nothing should be done without consulting with the Historical Commission.

Bleau said a letter from the insurance company was attached to the COA letter saying the town should do something.

Cristo replied that the insurance company did not specify asphalt.

The board voted 3-2 to lay asphalt; Cristo and Lachance were opposed.

Later in the meeting, Cindy Burr, a member of the Historical Commission, said the commission met this evening and were recommending that stone dust be placed in the walk area rather than asphalt.

Cristo noted that the board had already voted for asphalt. Lachance said the stone dust, when wet, would cake and cling to shoes.

Burr said the commission understood the safety factor involved, and asked if anyone uses the ramp that is there. Chase said it was used at times.

Cristo remarked that someone could ask for reconsideration of the vote. No motion came forward, so the area will be covered with asphalt.

Bleau asked Burr if there were any artifacts of historical value that could be placed in the selectmen's meeting room.

Burr replied that the Historical Society is responsible for historical artifacts and has a small museum at the Asa Water Mansion.

Lachance told Bleau he couldn't understand his concern with historical artifacts given the recent vote by the board. He said the historical value of the interior of the Asa Waters Mansion has been destroyed and the only historical value remaining of the mansion is the exterior. "I just don't understand you," he told Bleau.

Hawthorne Street

The board discussed a tree on Hawthorne Street that sits in the middle of the road, narrowing the road from two lanes of traffic to one. The board voted to send a letter to the tree warden for a public hearing to remove the shade tree.

Ramshorn

Lachance asked that a bench mark for water quality at Ramshorn be established. He said water quality could be affected later on with construction on the southerly end of South Oxford Road.

Beacon Hill Roll Call

Beacon Hill Roll Call records the votes of Representatives Richard Moore and Paul Kollios for the week of May 14-18. Also included is an earlier vote on final approval of the $1.2 billion tax hike. The Senate report did not arrive in time for this week's edition.

THE HOUSE

TAX HIKE (H 5800) - House 92-66, gave near final approval and sent to the Senate a $1.2 billion tax hike including hikes in the income, gas and unearned income tax. Supporters said the hike is necessary to bail the state out of a fiscal crisis and preserve essential services. Opponents said this is an outrageous and unnecessary tax hike which will hurt taxpayers and argued the House should pass a budget before considering a tax hike. Moore voted against the tax hike, Kollios voted for it.

ALTERNATIVE BUDGET (H 5700) - House 130-25, rejected an alternative budget proposed by the Republican leadership. The package, which authorizes spending for only seven months until Governor Dukakis leaves office, would translate into $12.2 billion if extended over 12 months. Supporters said this is a no tax package which is fiscally and socially responsible and makes deep cuts in waste. Opponents said the bogus package is irresponsible and makes deep cuts in human services. Both Moore and Kollios voted against the alternative budget.

INCREASES (H 5700) - House 90-64, rejected an amendment prohibiting any amendments increasing the budget unless accompanied by an amendment reducing the package by at least an equal amount. Amendment supporters said this will insure fiscal responsibility and prevent any overall increase. Opponents said the amendment is too restrictive. Both Moore and Kollios voted against the amendment.

JUDICIAL TRAINING (H 5700) - House 80-55, rejected an amendment eliminating the entire $372,593 funding for the judicial training institute. Amendment supporters said that if qualified judges are chosen they do not need training. Opponents said the cuts will further hurt the operation of already overcrowded courts. Both Moore and Kollios voted for the cut.

TRAVEL (H 5700) House 136-0, approved an amendment prohibiting any judge from being reimbursed for out of state travel. Amendment supporters said the state cannot afford this expense and argued the judges should pay out of their own pockets. Both Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE (H 5700) - House 153-1 approved an amendment reducing funding for the Governor's office from $3.9 million to $3.7 million. Amendment supporters said this will save $200,000 by eliminating two press secretaries and three unnecessary deputy directors. Opponents said the governor has already drastically reduced the size of his staff. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL (H 5700) - House 100-53, rejected an amendment reducing funding for the Governor's Council from $249,259 to $149,259 and abolishing salaries for councilors at the end of this year. Amendment supporters said the council is useless and outdated and costs too much money. Some opponents said the amendment is poorly drafted and unconstitutional. Others said the council is useful because it approves judicial appointments and pardons. Moore and Kollios voted for the cut.

SECRETARY OF STATE (H 5700) House 93-63, rejected an amendment reducing funding for the Secretary of State's office from $5.1 million to $4.1 million. Amendment supporters said this is a necessary cut which will not harm the office. Opponents said the staff has already been reduced in the past two years and claimed the amendment will reduce the ability of the office to generate $24 million in revenue. Moore and Kollios voted for the cut.

TREASURER (H 5700) - House 77-76, approved an amendment reducing funding for the Treasurer's office from $8.7 million to $7 million. Amendment supporters said this 20% cut is reasonable and noted the office is loaded with waste and patronage. Opponents said the cut will result in the loss of many jobs and services. Moore voted against the cut; Kollios voted for it.

ATTORNEY GENERAL (H 5700) - House 108-45, rejected an amendment reducing funding for the Attorney General's office from $12.7 million to $10.2 million. Amendment supporters said the 20% reduction is necessary during this fiscal crisis. Opponents said the office has already been cut $2 million over the past two years and claimed the amendment will cripple the office. Moore and Kollios voted against the cut.

ETHICS AND IG (H 5700) - House 82-71, approved an amendment eliminating the State Ethics Commission and its $937,000 funding and adding $500,000 to the Inspector General's office. Later on a voice vote without a roll call, the House rejected the amendment. Amendment supporters said this cost effective amendment would simply transfer the functions of the Ethics Commission to the IG's office. Opponents said the amendment simply wipes out the Ethics Commission and says nothing about transferring its functions to the IG. They said people are more distrustful than ever of ethics in government and claimed the amendment is a mistake. Moore and Kollios voted for the amendment to eliminate the Ethics Commission.

GAY FOSTER CARE (H 5700) - House 99-55, approved an amendment prohibiting the Department of Social Services from placing a child in a foster home which would have a negative psychological impact on the child. It also includes language that gay or bisexual orientation is considered an obstacle to the psychological well-being of the child. Amendment supporters said children should be placed in traditional families and claimed gays or bisexuals could have a severe negative impact. Opponents said the amendment is a bigoted one which attempts to take away civil rights from gays and bisexuals. They argued the ability to care for the children and provide a warm and loving home should be the main consideration and said sexual orientation is irrelevant. Moore voted for the amendment; Kollios voted against it.

Amnesty Period for Overdue Library Materials

MILLBURY - Do you have overdue library materials that you just haven't gotten around to returning? Are they now long overdue? To make it easy on patrons and to retrieve as many long overdue materials as possible, the Millbury Public Library has officially declared the last two weeks in May as FINE FREE WEEKS. From May 22 through June 2, patrons with overdue materials can return them without being charged a late fee.

This is the first time in over four years that the library has offered this amnesty period for overdue materials. Following these two fine free weeks, the library will again be charging fines for all overdue materials, including videocassette tapes. Charges are a modest two cents a day for late books, magazines, records and audio cassettes, and two dollars a day for late videocassette tapes. As in the past, patrons with overdue materials and unpaid fines will not be able to borrow library materials until their records are clear.

Patrons should also note that with the library's new computerized circulation system, users dropping off overdue books in the book deposit will also be charged overdue fines. They will be asked to pay these fines before they can check out library materials again.

Selectmen Hold Interviews for Boards and Committees

By Alec Belisle

SUTTON - The Selectmen met on May 14 for their regular meeting with all members present. Most of the evening was spent interviewing present office holders and residents who have expressed an interest in serving on town boards or committees. The board must fill positions which have expired or have been vacated.

Chairwoman Mary K. Connor noted that several candidates have submitted their names for more than one committee, and she asked that those candidates express their interests all at once. She explained that the interviewing process was new and quite informal, and asked the candidates to tell of their interests and add anything which they feel might be relevant to their being placed on a particular committee.

INTERVIEWS FOR APPOINTMENTS

ARTS COUNCIL - three terms expire

One incumbent, Karen Moran, has expressed a desire to be reappointed. Also interested in being appointed are Sandra Frerichs and Audrey Murphy, who was present at the meeting. Murphy has also placed her name in consideration for the Board of Health. She said she worked for a medical library for 20 years and presently works for Family Service one day a week. She has been a resident of Sutton for one year. Murphy also said that she would prefer an appointment to the board of health.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION - one term has expired

Jack Sheehan was present to indicate that he would like to be reappointed to the Conservation Commission. When asked by Connor if he felt the commission was functioning well, he replied that the fee structure doesn't allow the commission to recoup fees. He said he has spoken with Town Administrator Dexter Blois about a new state mandated fee structure.

Also interested in appointment to the conservation commission was Ann Achorn. She also expressed an interest in serving on the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Board. Achorn said she has over 20 years of experience in the business world and feels that she has much to contribute in the areas she has listed.

Connor asked each candidate if any particular issue brought them forward to serve. Achorn replied, "Not really, the issue that exposed me to town government was the power plant. It made me realize that it is a small town, and it is comprised of a lot of committees. There is a need for a lot of people to make contributions."

Connor asked Achorn if she had any particular philosophy on zoning or growth, and how she would approach the job in light of her philosophy.

"To quote a line from the charter," Achorn answered, "I think we're on the threshold of a lot of potential growth and development, and I think it would be exciting to be part of that. It would be a learning experience. I have an interest and a willingness to do whatever would need to be done. Ultimately we're obligated to follow the laws as they are written and as they exist. How much flexibility there would be, I don't know, clearly there are zoning laws. Working within that framework, I think it would be interesting to be part of the future of the town."

Selectman Dave Strieby noted that Achorn had indicated a minor interest in the Finance Committee.

Achorn replied that she would consider any committee where she might be of some help.

BOARD OF HEALTH - one term expires

Richard Wunschel has asked to be reappointed to the Board of Health. He has been a member of the board for 20 years. In response to a question, he listed the various offices he has held or is now holding.

Connor noted that several people have expressed an interest in serving on the board of health: Jane Palermo, Stephanie Stilla-Petrie, Sandra Frerichs, Audrey Murphy, and Joann Lambert.

The first to be interview was Jane Palermo. She said she chose the Board of Health because of her nursing background and experience in public health. She said she would be willing to serve on another committee if she is not chosen to serve on the board of health.

Joanne Lambert told the board that she has worked as a project manager for a consulting firm for 15 years. She designs septic systems and does percolation tests. Lambert is four courses shy of completing a B.S. degree in Civil Engineering.

Selectman Wally Johnson asked if her employer does any work for Sutton. Lambert replied that her firm does very little for the town.

HOUSING PARTNERSHIP COMMISSION - five terms expire

Joe Gravison indicated that he would like to be reappointed to the Housing Partnership Commission.

Incumbent Jack Virgilio told the board that he attempted to resign last year. "If anyone is interested," he said, "I'll resign my slot, but I'll continue if no one else is interested."

PLANNING BOARD - one term expires

Incumbent Craig Ferrell is not seeking reappointment.

Gerard Petrie, Nicholas Moran, Ann Achorn, and Louis Ciavarra have expressed an interest in serving on the Planning Board.

Moran is a high school English teacher in Worcester. He said he has also worked for a local radio station covering county, city, and state government for the media. Moran said he lived in many towns before moving to Sutton, and saw well planned towns and poorly planned towns. He said the proposed Mass Pike connector is an important consideration for the town, and feels that Sutton should have a town planner. Moran has served on the user fee committee. He said he would also consider serving on the ZBA.

Louis Ciavarra is an attorney with the law firm of Bowditch and Dewey. He grew up in Easton, a town very much like Sutton. He said Easton has changed over the last 20 years with strip malls and development. "I don't want to see it happen to Sutton," he said. To a question from Strieby, he answered that he is not involved in any litigation which would predispose him to any position.

SOLID WASTE COMMITTEE two terms expire

John Marklund, who has been an associate member of the Solid Waste Committee since last Fall, indicated that he would like to be considered for a vacancy on the board.

Wally Johnson, the selectmen's representative on the committee, said he would like to continue the work he has begun on the committee.

Peter Belletti was present to voice his interest in serving on the committee. He is an engineer and runs a laboratory for Raytheon. He told the board that one of his responsibilities is disposing of hazardous waste. "I feel strongly about the issue of the landfill," Belletti said. He also said the committee has to look at the impact the run-off will have on the wetlands.

From My Window on Farnsworth Court

By "Pastor Rae" Cameron

There was a famous English preacher by the name of Spurgeon who wrote up his sermons for publication on Mondays. Today I'm writing just a few days after Mother's day, and so the topic of the family and home is very much on my mind.

The family and the home are very idealistic terms. I personally have very good references to them because I was blessed to be brought up in a fine Christian home. God has given me a tremendous Christian wife, four children who are all Christians in every sense of the word, and 13 grandchildren who are being raised in Christian homes. I do realize that, for many, the family and the home have not been all that ideal.

Jesus was asked for his opinion about divorce by some folks who were trying to trap Him. He taught that divorce was permitted because of the hardness of our hearts, but from the beginning God's plan was for the family and the home. This Pastor shares the pain that divorce has brought to so many people.

Many of the problems we have in society are a reflection of the problems in the home. Interpersonal relationships of true, honest feelings are learned in the home. If we have learned our proper place in the home then we can also learn what our place is in society. Good work habits, disciplines, courtesy, these all start in the home and are carried over into society.

When Jesus wanted to tell us about God, he used the image of the family with his dynamic statement, "Our Father which art in heaven..." This speaks well of Joseph, Jesus' earthly father, and even after Jesus spent three days with the religious leaders of his day, at the age of 12 we are told that he returned to submit to his parents. The family and the home is also one place where we learn about God. May God bless each and every one of your homes with his presence. Amen.

The Board of Assessors will also meet on the following evenings: June 14 and 28, July 12 and 26, August 9 and 23.

MILLBURY - Members of the West Millbury Social Union will sponsor a buffet luncheon at the West Millbury Union Chapel on Memorial Day, May 28, from 11:30-1:30. Tickets are $5.50 for adults and $2.00 for children under 12. Mrs. Florence Paine is chairwoman of the committee.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS - two vacancies

Incumbent William Pepka said he would like to continue to serve on the board. Others expressing an interest in the ZBA were Don Allison, Timothy Kerins, Ann Achorn, Marilyn Belletti, and James Chechile.

Allison remarked that he came before the Selectmen in January to fill a vacancy on the ZBA. He is an engineer with Failure Analysis Associates. He holds a Ph.D. in Mechanical Engineering from Lehigh University and is a registered mechanical engineer. He is presently a member of the power plant task force. He also noted that he has had some interaction with the planning board, the building inspector, the town administrator, and the selectmen over the Skye Line Drive issue.

"I feel my professional background could be of value to the board of appeals," Allison said, "in the sense of what's facing us, and I feel that my technical background would be of use to that board."

Allison also said that no major issue sparked his interest in serving on a committee, but since he has been seeking to serve several issues have arisen. He said he was asked to serve on the Task Force. "The message that we all got (at the Town meeting)," Allison said, "is that controls have to be implemented. We have to make sure the ZBA does its job to make sure Makowski does what they're supposed to do and not take short cuts." He also said that the ZBA should listen to the 17 member task force and consider their input before making a decision.

Timothy Kerins noted that he was involved in the Charter Feasibility Committee and served on the School Committee for two years. He said the power plant issue has rekindled his desire to become active in town politics. He said he is pro-business, but cautioned that any project coming into Sutton should be monitored closely."I think we should take a serious look at what we want to have in this town. I think that we as citizens should have a little bit more say in terms of what transpires in town," he said.

Ann Achorn remarked that the ZBA, the Planning Board and the Conservation Commission are somewhat interrelated. She said that she served on a zoning study committee several years ago and at that time there were many plans submitted that would virtually double the size of Sutton. She emphasized that this growth should be monitored closely.

Marilyn Belletti holds a bachelor's degree in business administration. She said she feels it is important to have members on the board who are not engineers to offer a less technical perspective.

To a question from LaBonte, she answered that she would consider serving on the finance committee.

James Chechile explained that he has lived in Hopkinton and Marshfield. He said he was involved in politics in Marshfield and his basic reason for applying is to leave Sutton better than it is now.

Patrick Morris, clerk of the ZBA, told the selectmen that his board needs someone with an engineering background. "Speaking for myself and for board members," he said, "we feel that Don Allison would make an excellent addition; Don has come to our meetings; he's taken literature home and read. I'm sure that any of these people (the candidates) would make excellent board members, but we all think engineering is gravely needed so we can ask the right questions."

Selectman Mike Chizy remarked that in his 20 years of involvement in town politics, he has never seen so many highly qualified people willing to serve the town.

Task Force Update

The Chairman of the Power Plant Task Force, Carl Licopoli, told the selectmen that since the town did not vote the ban or the moratorium, the task force should focus on regulations and should work closely with the planning board and the ZBA. He also asked that the task force be reduced from 17 to nine members.

Connor said it was too early to cut the size of the task force. "When people work with the process, it always comes out better for the town," she said. "I'd like to see more people become involved."

Licopoli also brought up his position on the task force since he was serving as the selectman's representative prior to his defeat in the town election. He asked the board if they wanted him to continue serving on the Task Force. No opinions were expressed.

Landfill Fees

Larry Moore, Chairman of the User Free Committee, reported that his committee has recommended increasing the landfill fee to $15.00, with a $3.00 charge for a duplicate sticker.

Board members feared that if the fee is too high, people may throw their refuse onto Stone School Road.

The board voted 3-2 to charge $10.00 for the first sticker and $3.00 for each additional stickers.

Meeting Time

Strieby proposed starting the selectmen's meetings at 7 PM or 7:30 PM rather than at 8:00 PM. He argued that the late starting time discourages people from attending. It was decided to put this item on a future agenda for consideration.

Executive Session

Prior to adjournment, the board unanimously voted to go into executive session to hear a grievance brought to the board by the police department.

School Committee Restores Sixteen Positions

By Edward J. Cooney

SUTTON - The newly elected Chairwoman of the School Committee, Elizabeth Bacon, called the May 14 meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. with all members present, including newly elected member Linda Roach. Bacon thanked Andrew Smith for his six years of service as chairman and welcomed Alicia Szydlik as student representative to the School Committee.

Committee Goals

Following some discussion on the process for establishing goals, Bacon suggested that over the next two months committee members prepare for a discussion on goals at the August meeting.

Change of Meeting Place

Bacon said she would like to see the meeting place for the school committee changed from the stage of the auditorium to the Student Activity Room above the Principal's office. She cited problems with hearing people in the audience and said the change of locale would make it easier for discussion purposes.

Budget

Spence presented several comments concerning state aid and the budget status for FY 90-91. He indicated that he had no additional information concerning state aid but did note that the House of Representatives had level funded local aid. "If we get what was voted at the town meeting," Spence said, "and unless something unexpected happens, we should be in very good shape. We should finish this year in the black." He said he would reserve judgement at the moment for next year's budget.

Spence announced that 16 positions would be restored. In April, 16 teachers received pink slips indicating they would be riffed. He also said that by June he would be in a better position to make a recommendation on funding three new positions: a music teacher, a special education teacher, and a custodial position.

Resignation

Under Item 6 on the agenda, the committee approved the resignation of Elizabeth Douville, Jr./Sr. High School Library Clerk, with regrets. Spence said he is not recommending that the position he filled for the remaining portion of the school year.

Bids for School Supplies

Bacon said that bids for general school supplies were opened today. She said she would entertain a motion to take the bids under advisement until the administration can make a comparison of prices. The committee approved 5-0 a motion by Committeeman Andrew Smith to await the administrations' recommendations.

Improvement Council Requests

Elementary School Principal Beverly Brown presented the Elementary School Improvement Council's request for $1350 to purchase two image writer printers for the computer lab. The Improvement Council was established under Chapter 188 to expend funds allotted by the state to schools on a per pupil basis.

Spence noted that Chapter 188 monies initially pegged at $10.00 per pupil have dropped to $2.44 per student.

High School Principal Ed Grant reported that the High School Improvement Council approved the expenditure of $1285 for three TV sets for classroom use. A second item for a 10x10 movie screen for the auditorium also was approved, bringing the total to $1369.

Spence told the committee that they have 30 days in which to veto the requests. The committee took no action.

Statement of Assurances

Spence recommended that the committee approve the Statement of Assurances that is required for state and federal grant monies requested and received. The grant recipients must give assurances that programs will be administered in accordance with the provisions and conditions of all applicable federal and state statutes, regulations, program plans, and applications.

School committees are required to vote annually on the Statement. The committee confirmed the procedure on a 5-0 vote.

Tuition Rates

Spence presented a proposal for tuition rates for the 1990-91 school year. The rates suggested were: Kindergarten $1,000, Grades 1-8 $1,000, Grades 9-12 $2,000. He explained that the rates haven't been adjusted for a couple of years.

He then called the committee's attention to their policy of charging 10% of the tuition rate for any employee's child who does not live in the community. Only two or three children are involved this year in tuition payments.

Bacon asked about the increase of $300 at the K level and the $400 increase at the other levels. Spence replied that anything less than $1,000 in today's market was not appropriate. He did say that he would not be opposed to the kindergarten being $800 or $900.

Roach asked if the tuition rate included siblings. Spence said that each student would be treated individually.

Roach said she could see the population going up and wondered what effect that would have. Spence said that if it meant an additional teacher would be needed to accommodate a tuition student, the student would not be accepted. He also said there is no room at the elementary level.

The board voted unanimously to accept the recommended rates.

Roof Replacement

Spence reported that the Design Selection Committee will rank three architects to be considered for the Elementary School roof replacement project. "The school committee then must negotiate with the architects in order of their ranking," he explained. "Once the school committee negotiates with the architect, and if not selected, the school committee then moves on to the next ranked, and cannot renegotiate with the number one ranked, etc. You can't play off one against the other," he said.

Cafeteria Bookkeeping

In another matter, Spence said that bookkeeping responsibilities for the cafeteria will be relocated and centralized in the Superintendent's office. He said that the partial cost of a clerk will be defrayed by the change. The cafeteria account is a revolving account.

The meeting adjourned at 7:52.

Millbury Home Economics Teacher Wins Top Award

MILLBURY - Cheryl L. Gucwa has been named the state winner in the National Home Economics Teacher of the Year Award Program for a curriculum that stresses the home and family by incorporating all areas of Home Economics in the Middle School program.

"The program is up-to-date, varied, and carefully sequenced," said Patricia Daly, a professor in the Home Economics Department at Framingham State College.

The award was established in 1974 to recognize the outstanding contributions of home economics teachers to improve the quality of family life and to identify innovative programs that have a positive impact on students as well as their families and communities.

Gucwa will represent Massachusetts as she competes with winners from 52 affiliated state associations for the National Home Economics Teacher of the Year Award to be presented at the American Home Economics Association Annual Meeting and Exposition in Indianapolis, Indiana, June 24-28.

Gucwa is presently teaching Home Economics at the R.E. Shaw Middle School. She is also the Health Education Coordinator for Grades K-7. She received both her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Framingham State College. She and her husband and daughter live in Grafton.

Library Contests

MILLBURY - The Massachusetts Association of Educational Media recently sponsored two statewide contests for school children to promote reading and books. The 4th grade children at R.E. Shaw Middle School took part in the bookmark contest. The winners were Lauren Tibbetts, first place, and Marcia Gosselin, second place.

Students in grades 5, 6, and 7 took part in a poster contest. Brian Wilkinson won first place and Dale Pixton placed second.

The winning bookmark and poster from the school was entered into a statewide contest. The winners in those contests will be eligible to receive a $100 savings bond and a $50 savings bond respectively. The wining bookmark will be used next year to promote School Library Media Month in Massachusetts.

LANGUAGES

Carmody agreed that the students need a recommendation. "They could still take a foreign language," he said. Carmody also said that there is a policy in place that states that any student scoring below the 30th percentile in reading skills will be recommended for developmental reading as an alternative.

Pojani said she has received several calls from parents who indicated that when it came down to scheduling and choosing courses, students had to get the recommendation so they could take the foreign language. She said the reading teachers did not allow many students to take a foreign language.

"I don't now whether or not that took place," Carmody said.

Pojani said she would like to see the language courses remain as in the past: French I in Grade 8 and French II in grade 9.

Marble asked if under the new proposal any Grade 9 student would be able to start French or Spanish at level II. Carmody said they would not.

Pease recommended that the proposal be tried only with Grade 7 next year. "It would give us a whole year lead time to see if there is a possibility that kids in French or Spanish could take it at level I in grade 8."

The committee approved the recommendation on a 5-0 vote.

In a related matter pertaining to non-academic areas, the Committee approved Carmody's proposal for a program of rotation every 7 weeks for courses in Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Art and Keyboarding for Grade 7, and possibly Grade 8. He said it would also allow the teachers in the teams to meet for a common planning period.

Tank Testing

Business Manager Sue Pierce reported on costs for the inspection and testing of fuel tanks. An overflow valve prevention device for five tanks would cost $10,000. Also included in that figure would be the cost for spill containment devices for seven tanks. Prior to December 1998, leak detection devices need to be installed in all seven tanks at a cost of $126,000.

Pierce noted that the tanks must be inspected yearly and said two estimates are available: one for $4150 and another for $3500. She recommended that they be inspected this summer which would allow time to remove any tanks that might be leaking. She said it would cost approximately $43,000 to remove a tank.

The committee approved a motion to ask the board of selectmen for the use of $3500 out of the town meeting article that voted $65,000 for the purpose of inspecting and testing the tanks.

Graduation

The high school graduation will take place on June 3. Dr. David Matson, a local dentist and graduate of Millbury High School, will be the commencement speaker.

Carmody said a decision on whether to hold the graduation exercises inside or outside will be made early that morning. The committee had requested an inside graduation ceremony to save $2,000 in overtime to set up both an outside and inside location.

Lead Testing

Sylvia said a state mandate has been received requiring parents to acquire a lead poisoning test from their own physicians as a requirement for a child's entrance to kindergarten. The committee voted 5-0 to include the regulation in the committee's handbook.

Teacher Recall

Sylvia recommended the recall of six teachers who received pink slips for layoffs. He also said he was prepared to offer five teachers partial contracts. The committee voted 5-0 to approve the recall of the following: Mary Griffith, Elementary School; Richard Smith, Middle School; Karen Dinsdale; Middle School; Lauren Boberg, High School; Mark Sutphen, High School; Eugene Genese, High School.

Teachers being offered partial contracts are: Carol Rogers, Middle School; Barbara McCurdy, Middle School; Gail Fairbanks, High School; Patricia Howard, Elementary School; Nancy Boivin, High School.

Partial Contracts

Millbury Teachers Association President Tom Murray was present to express the union's concerns over the partial contract. He argued that three courses would be more than a one-half contract under the present teacher's contract.

Sylvia said that half contracts would include three subjects for a period of three hours and 15 minutes; a two subject arrangement would be only 84 minutes. He said that all benefits would be prorated under the contractual arrangement and that one hour of that three hours and 15 minutes would involve duties other than teaching.

Sylvia said he could not cut a period in half to have a teacher teach only two and one half periods. (Under the present contract, teachers teach a five period day with a prep period and a duty assignment period.). "The teachers have every right to refuse that (the 1/2 contract)," Sylvia said.

"The superintendent has no right to unilaterally decide the contract, nor do I," Murray said. "There are issues that may be negotiated. It's unfair to say that's the way it is, that's it. I'm saying I think we should have some say in this matter."

Sylvia replied, "Teachers will be here three hours and 15 minutes teaching three subjects, and will also have one hour of time when they are not assigned a class. I don't think that's unreasonable."

"I think it is unreasonable for the school committee to ask someone to teach a half contract and be paid for an hour and 20 minutes," Murray said. "Obviously you are looking at it from a very different perspective. You have to look at it from the perspective of a teacher who will still have three class preparations, and they will have to make themselves available when the kids are available. "

Sylvia said he did not expect teachers who teach from 8-11:15 a.m. to be available at 2:00 p.m. but would expect them to be available before school if needed by a student.

Murray said he didn't want to get into a public dialogue. "I just don't think anyone has a right to unilaterally decide how the contract will be applied. That is something that's been agreed upon by the teacher's association, and I, as a representative, should have some input as to how the contract will be applied," he said. "If there is going to be some modification of that then I think it is subject to some mutual negotiations and a consensus on that."

Sylvia suggested going into executive session to discuss the matter further. Murray said he preferred that the matter be subject to public discussion. "I didn't expect any decision from you tonight," Murray said. "The contract that we have in effect is very clear as to how it should be applied to full time teachers. We have very few part time teachers. Apparently we are going to have some this year. This contract has been negotiated, and in terms of how it is going to be applied the superintendent doesn't have the right nor do I have the right to say this is the way it is going to be. We can modify this contract with mutual agreement."

Wilczynski said they have every right to go into executive session to discuss strategy as it applies to negotiations. "It sounds to me like you're going to be disagreeing with the superintendent's interpretation," he said.

Murray said he was not sure if he was going to disagree. "I'm not sure there are some things that can be so easily cut in half."

Hanratty told Murray that the committee would take the matter under advisement.

Town of Sutton
Board of Public Health

At a meeting of the Board of health held on May 1, 1990 it was unanimously voted to adopt the following rules and regulations under the authority of Chapter III, Massachusetts General Laws, Section 31A and 31B. Any rule or regulation, or portion thereof, inconsistent with these new rules and regulations are repealed or modified so as to be in consonance with them. These regulations are effective with publication and posting.

8.0 Requirements for Insurance and Inspections of trucks used for septage hauling.

8.1 As a prerequisite for licensing, septage haulers shall furnish to the Board a certificate or other document attesting to insurance coverage on each truck used to haul septage in the following amounts:

- Bodily injury, $250,000 each person, $500,000 each accident and property damage $50,000 each accident.

These required amounts shall be reviewed annually in October and, if changed, each licensed septage hauler shall be notified in writing prior to the following December first.

8.2 Annually, in May, each truck used by septage hauler for hauling septage shall be inspected to determine compliance with the following:

- A current valid inspection sticker issued by an inspection station licensed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Registry of Motor Vehicles.
- Maintenance of the truck, tank, pumps and valves in good working order.
- Suitable venting of the tank that will permit the escape of gas but not the liquid contents.
- Absence of leakage of septage from valves, pumps, hoses or hose connections. Suction and pressure hoses in good condition and free of damage or wear that puts them at risk of failure.
- Tank securely mounted on the truck and provided with leak proof covers.

A supply of a suitable chemical product to reduce odor and instructions for its use before transporting septage over public roads.

- A measuring device that indicates the actual volume of septage in the tank.
- The external parts of the truck, tank and equipment are to be maintained in a clean condition. Instructions for cleaning and a cleaning schedule posted in the truck cab.
- A water hose of the garden or household type shall be part of the equipment carried. The hose shall be used only for cleaning up spills and washing or rinsing the tank, hoses, pumps, valves and external parts of the truck and tank likely to have been contaminated by septage.

Discrepancies found shall be corrected and reinspection conducted by June thirtieth. Failure to comply with this regulation shall be cause for suspending or denying a septage hauling license.

8.3 A fee of $20.00 per vehicle shall be paid for the annual inspection and, if needed, include one reinspection. Additional inspections shall be at the rate of $10.00.

8.4 Trucks being used to haul septage in or through the Town of Sutton may be stopped at any time and be inspected to determine compliance with this regulation. Inspections may be conducted by a Member of the Board of Health, a duly appointed agent of the Board or authorized personnel of the septage processing plant then being used for septage dumping purposes. There shall be no fee for an unscheduled inspection. Trucks found not to be in compliance with this regulation will be scheduled for reinspection at a cost of $10.00 on each occasion. No further septage dumping permits involving a truck found not to be in compliance shall be issued until a successful reinspection has been accomplished. The names of haulers licensed in other Towns and found to be in violation of this regulation will be reported to the licensing agency involved with a request that corrective action be taken.

Board of Public Health

At a meeting of the Board of Health held on May 1, 1990 it was unanimously voted to adopt the following rules and regulations under the authority of Chapter III, Massachusetts General Laws, Section 31A and 31B. Any rule or regulation, or portion thereof, inconsistent with these new rules and regulations are repealed or modified so as to be in consonance with them. These regulations are effective with publication and posting.

9.0 Billing and payment for septage dumping permits.

9.1 Billing and payment procedures of sewage treatment plants provide an overdue period at the expiration of which interest penalties apply e.g. sixty days from the date of the bill.

9.2 Because penalties for overdue bills are an unneeded and unnecessary expense to the Town of Sutton, the following payment policies are established.

9.2.1 Based on the amounts indicated in the sewage treatment plant bill, septage haulers shall be re-billed individually and shall pay said bills by the twenty-fifth (25) day of the month in which the bill is rendered by the Board of health.

9.2.2 By the Twenty-fifth (25) day of each month a voucher equal in amount to septage hauler bills paid shall be submitted to the Town Accountant for payment processing. Thereafter, vouchers equal in amount to late septage hauler bills paid shall be prepared on the day of receipt and submitted to the Town Accountant for payment processing. Subject to availability of funds a voucher equal in amount to the sewage treatment plant bill shall be on the next business day prepared and submitted to the Town Accountant for payment processing.

9.2.3 Septage hauler bills payable to the Town of Sutton shall be considered overdue if payment is not received in the Board of Health office by the twenty-fifth (25) day of the month (or next business day thereafter) in which the bill was rendered.

9.2.4 No further septage dumping permits shall be issued to any septage hauler whose account is overdue.

9.2.5 Overdue septage hauler bills shall be subject to penalty fee of fourteen (14) percent per annum or a five dollar ($5.00) service charge, whichever amount is greater, until the bill is paid in full.
